SECRET MEANINGS

Te Tuhi Workshop, Yr 1 – 4
Throughout 2017

te tuhi

What we will learn on our visit

During this Te Tuhi workshop Secret Meanings we will experience a towering Cuisenaire rod sculpture by internationally acclaimed New Zealand artist Michael Parekowhai.

We will learn about shape, colour and symbolic meaning through colour. We will discuss how Cuisenaire rods teach languages and help solve mathematical problems.

During our visit we will observe Atarangi II and discover the size, material and the many colours used in this towering sculpture. In the art studio we will celebrate the secrets of colour by creating our own personal colour wheel. We will learn what a colour wheel is, what kinds of colours are used and how to mix paint to create primary, secondary and tertiary colours.

Suggested Post Visit Discussion and Exercises

After our visit we will extend our learning by exploring...

Our Te Tuhi visit

What did we learn on our visit? What did we think about the artwork? We will talk about what we have learnt during our visit. This may include sharing our thoughts on the kind of art we observed, sharing the ideas we talked about in the gallery and the kind of art we created. We can then share this experience with others by:

- Writing a letter to someone special (mum or dad)
- Writing a post for our classroom blog page
- Record a video to post on our classroom blog page
- Record sound bites for school radio
- Scripting a short presentation for assembly
- Designing an advertisement for the school newsletter showing people why they should go to the art gallery.

Learning Outcomes / Level 2 Visual Arts levels

Understanding the Arts in Context

During our pre visit exercises we will learn about colour and symbolic meaning and share our ideas and understanding through the art we make.

Developing Ideas

During our pre visit exercises we will develop our ideas and understanding about colour by discussing how colour can reflect many things such as nature, food, animals and feelings.

Developing Practical Knowledge

During our visit we will create our own personal colour wheel. We will learn how to mix paint to create primary, secondary and tertiary colours.

Communicating and Interpreting

During our visit we will share our ideas and thoughts about the art we see and make. We will listen to how others have created their art.

Mathematics

Number Knowledge

During our pre visit exercises we will learn new ways of thinking about numbers and solving mathematic problems

English

Speaking, Writing and Presenting – Processes and strategies

During our pre visit exercises we will explore how colour can help describe words and Cuisenaire rods can help tell a story. This will help us see a connection between speaking, writing, and visual language.

Social Sciences

During our pre visit exercises we will explore how Cuisenaire rods help teach different languages and the different reasons why people choose to learn.

Additional Information

Atarangi II is a giant enlargement of a stack of Cuisenaire rods, an educational system originally used to teach young children relationships between numbers.

This system was invented by Belgian teacher Georges Cuisenaire in the 1950s, and uses a visual language to describe mathematical equations, with each rod a different colour and length to represent a different unit value. New Zealand students of a certain era will have memories of Cuisenaire rods forming a staple part of the classroom equipment.

Te Ataarangi, an immersion style of learning is considered one of the most significant programmes in the revitalisation of Te reo Maori. This style of learning was developed by Katerina te Heikoko Mataira and Ngoingoi Pewhairangi.

More recently Cuisenaire rods have been used in the teaching of languages, including teaching te reo Maori, a method known as Te Ataarangi, developed by Katerina te Heikoko Mataira and Ngoingoi Pewhairangi.
